

Mount San Jacinto State Park and Wilderness

Mount San Jacinto State Park is located within the Santa Rosa and San Jacinto Mountains National Monument. Providing a picturesque backdrop to local communities, Mt. San Jacinto State Park is a desirable back-country destination that can be accessed via trails from the valley floor or the alpine village of Idyllwild. Park offices are also located in Idyllwild.

The deeply weathered summit of Mount San Jacinto stands 10,834 feet above sea level, and is the second highest mountain range in Southern California. A two hour drive from either Los Angeles or San Diego, the mountain's magnificent granite peaks, subalpine forests, and fern-bordered mountain meadows offer a unique opportunity to explore and enjoy a scenic, high-country wilderness area. The park offers two drive-in campgrounds near the town of Idyllwild. Most of the park is a designated wilderness area enjoyed by hikers and backpackers. The state park offers 48 miles of trails within it 14,000 acres. In addition, Mount San Jacinto State Park is surrounded the San Bernardino National Forest making for more than 250,000 acres of outdoor adventure.
